Jump for the Cause Stereotactic Room

Women's Health Center, City of Hope

Stereotactic biopsy is a precisely directed method to remove a small sampling of breast tissue to confirm the diagnosis of breast cancer prior to surgery and is performed under local anesthesia. This service exemplifies our commitment to providing the most complete diagnosis with the least invasive measures possible. In addition to the plaque, shown at right, we will be proud to display a framed photo of the Jump for the Cause event in the room.
